5. PROMOTIONS AND ICB AGREEMENTS

5.1 PROMOTIONS

- A. Short Term Promotions – Short Term Promotional Programs, which are limited to time periods of up to six months, are designed to stimulate sales of selected products and services, and will be offered to customers at the Company's discretion following advance notification to the Department. The promotions could include reductions or waivers of nonrecurring and monthly charges for any of the Company's products and services. The time periods, location and terms and conditions applicable to each promotion are provided to the Department at the time of notification. These promotions are in addition to the specific promotions set forth in the following paragraphs.
